Dipl.-Ing. Gunnar Jung, Architekt, Director of Operations

gjung@GDWstudio.com

Profile

Gunnar Jung was born in Germany and trained as an architect at the Bauhaus University in Weimar and the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago. He earned the German equivalent of a Master of Architecture degree.

He has worked on a variety of projects around the world. Most recently he won several awards with Andre Kikoski Architect in New York for "The Wright" restaurant at the Guggenheim Museum New York completed in 2010. Before joining GDW he received invaluable training at international firms like BRT Bothe Richter Theherani in Hamburg, Gensler in Chicago, Denton Corker Marshall in Melbourne, Fender Katsalidis in Melbourne and Rietveld Architects in New York.

Mr. Jung's work is based on his conviction that the success of a project solely depends on the joint effort of all people involved. He believes that individual dedication, precise work and consistency will maximize the success of every project.
